SITUATION REPORT (SITREP) # 166
18TH – 22ND JUNE 2018

WSTF CEO AT THE KENYA CLIMATE INNOVATION CENTRE WATER DIALOGUE

Access to clean an affordable water in Kenya continues to dwindle with approximately 45% of the population lacking access to clean and safe drinking water. The Kenya Climate Innovation Centre (KCIC) noted that huge gap in water supply by the public sector. They thus held a water dialogue and forum with the aim of having an interactive session with experts, who gave workable recommendations to improve commercialisation of the sector. During the forum, Mr. Ismail Shaiye, CEO WSTF, shared his experience workable solutions and also highlighted the bottlenecks to water entrepreneurship and commercialisation.
